Subject: Statement from the Kremlin on Iran

2009 SEP 28 PM 5: 30

The Kremlin has released the following statement in response to today's news revealing the existence of a secret uranium enrichment site in Iran:

Iran's construction of a uranium enrichment plant violates decisions of the United Nations Security Council. The International Atomic Energy Agency must investigate this site immediately, and Iran must cooperate with this investigation. Russia will assist in this investigation by any available means. Russia remains committed to a dialogue with Iran on the nuclear issue, and urges Iran to provide proof of its commitment to a peaceful nuclear program by the October 1 meeting of the P5-plus-1.
